WELCOME

Hey! I'm Dmitry. Thank you for being here.

I created this 3 step workbook with the intention of making it super simple to enter into your dream life.

Now more than ever in the history of humanity we are empowered to live out our dreams; you see it everywhere - people all over the world are loving the abundance now available to each one of us.

I have personally recreated myself many times over, and now I will help you to do the same. Get excited!

LET’S BEGIN

Before any creative activity, I have found it is incredibly important to meditate, breathe, and set an intentional mood for that which is to follow. The breathing specifically will relieve your body of any anxiety and stress and get you into a state of receptive relaxation - this is very much required for your dreams to start to manifest in reality. Make it a practice.

After this, we will go through the 3 steps, understand what they mean, and start envisioning for ourselves. I cannot tell you what your dream is - you already know deep within. Together, we will outline exactly how you most wish to spend your time, create your new dream identity, and learn to grow this in the real world by actualizing, monetizing, and celebrating every success.

If you’re ready, let’s begin.

STEP 1

SPENDING TIME

Your time is infinitely more valuable than any other resource. The way you spend your days says everything about your dreams and the life you live. Take back your time and your destiny is in your hands. Less thinking; more feeling.

Every single day, every single moment, we are spending time that we can never get back. It is worth infinitely more than money, which can be replenished. Contrary to popular belief, time IS NOT money!

In recognition of this, the first step is taking back your momentary presence, the power to decide to spend time how you choose. This must be free from societal conditioning, the wishes of your parents, or how things “should” “normally” go.

DREAM TIME

On the next page, you will list the activities you dream of filling your daily life. This depends solely on you and is the foundation of your dream life – how you spend your time! It is the most important step and involves your full being to choose what happens next.

I cannot overstate that this step will be the foundation to your new dream life! Yet, it must be approached with a light air of higher vibrational dreamlike feeling. This step is not about whether it is logical, rational, or possible – we will get to that later.

Feel into that it could be anything! Some may want to write poetry, others design architecture, still others may want to travel to beautiful places. The only limitation here is that it must be something you can do every day, something that excites you to live freely.

01 SPENDING TIME: WORKSHEET

WHAT WILL YOU DO?

Note: Remember, these are just jumping off points for you to brainstorm. Use any or all.

- If resources (time, money, food, shelter, etc.) were unlimited, what would you be doing?
- What service is your heart called to offer?
- What excites you in the world?
- What activities do you enjoy most?
- What is the one thing you do that makes you lose track of time?
- What would you rather be doing right now?
- What do others say you have a gift in?
- What are your unique strengths and talents?
- What are you known for in your family?
- How will you spend time in your dream life?

ACTION: LIST 1-3 DREAM ACTIVITIES YOU CAN DO EVERY DAY.

NEXT WE WILL FORGE YOUR DREAM IDENTITY.

STEP 2

CREATE IDENTITY

Having defined the activities of your dream life, we will now articulate the type of person who does those activities. This is your interface with the world and how you communicate who you are. Your new dream identity will be forged out of exactly who you always knew you could be - your highest potential as a present and conscious living being.

NEW YOU

Look out into the world - you may find many cases of people already successfully living a life similar to your dream life. They have made their time invaluable and focused solely on the things they love the most. This is great inspiration for you!

Here, in the second step, you will create your new dream identity - we will build a new version of who you were always meant to be. Reaching your potential involves forging a new identity, and thus taking charge of your destiny!

Recreating yourself is one of the most powerful moves one can make. It is solely and uniquely a creative endeavor, and if you're at all the creative type, it should come easy. Even if you're not, think of it as creating a character for a story.

This won't just be a new persona for yourself, but an identity that takes action and does the activities that we outlined in Step 1 - these are the anchors that bring your new identity to life. For example, a poet would write poetry, an actor, act, etc.

Many are already living the lives of their dreams! Let's applaud them and relish in the fact that we now live in a world where this is possible – more possible than ever before in the history of humankind! Lift others up and thus rise yourself.

02 CREATE IDENTITY: WORKSHEET

WHO WILL YOU BE?

Note: Remember, these are just jumping off points for you to brainstorm. Use any or all.

Choose someone you look up to. Study them.

- What do you imagine this person does daily?
- How does this person appear in the world?
- What mood or feeling does this person carry?
- What attributes to this person's success?
- How does this person enrich the world?
- What is this person's unique gift?
- How does this person turn this gift into value?
- What do others say about this person?
- How does this person make money?
- Can you learn from this person's example?

(It's not really about this other person; your answers are actually all qualities of the dream life identity that you are creating for yourself now!)

ACTION: DEFINE YOUR NEW DREAM LIFE IDENTITY. THIS IS WHO YOU WILL EMBODY IN YOUR DREAM LIFE - BE SUCCINCT & SPECIFIC.

NEXT WE WILL GROW DREAMS INTO REALITY.

STEP 3

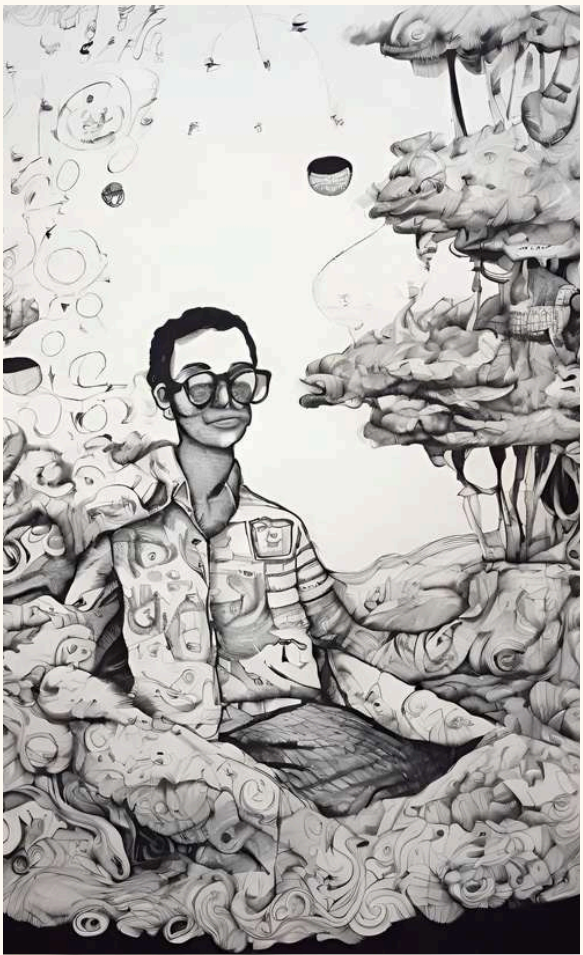

INCREASING WINS

Finally, we start taking action. Your daily activities, no matter how seemingly large, can always be broken down into manageable parts. We will celebrate every small success and start accumulating “wins”. As you grow into your new dream life, you will gain confidence to monetize your unique service. Proudly share with the world your new vision.

Take time and really feel into who this new person is – it is about to be you! This final step is about starting to take action in the real world. We will now detail moves that will help cement your new identity and help you grow into your new dream life.

It's good to imagine you already are this new version of yourself - but that's not enough. You must now accumulate ever-increasing "wins" that will help ground your new identity in the world, in real life. These wins are like watering your plants.

START SMALL

Anything you choose to do and be is a service to others and the world. Whether you are singing songs, flying planes, or building websites, this is something that you can monetize in order to support your dream.

So many are already living the life of their dreams - they only got there by building up small successes ("wins") to eventually fund the life they wanted. Point being, they all started small.

Now, you can live the life you dream as well! Start with small wins and gradually increase them; with each one, celebrate it and step deeper into your dream identity. Start spending your time doing your dream activities and being your dream identity – share it with the world and everyone you know to fast-track the process. Journal your progress. Keep going.

03 INCREASING WINS: WORKSHEET

HOW WILL YOU GROW?

Note: Remember, these are just jumping off points for you to brainstorm. Use any or all.

- What are small actions you can take today?
- How can you track/record your wins?
- How can you show the world the new you?
- What will affirm your dream identity?
- How will you celebrate and express gratitude?
- How can you build small wins into big wins?
- How can you break down big wins into small?
- How can your daily dream activities be a valuable service for others?
- How can you make it easy for people to pay you for what you dream of doing anyway?
- What service can you offer others and how much will it cost? (Your time is valuable!)

ACTION: WRITE DOWN HOW YOU WILL RECORD YOUR GROWTH GOING FORWARD AND START TO CELEBRATE EVERY WIN.

BONUS: IDEAS ON MONETIZATION UP NEXT.

BONUS: GENERAL FUNDING STRATEGIES

These days there are a plethora of ways to receive funding for your unique service and gift. The primary mindset to enter into this is to hold value for yourself and your time. Remember: there is no one like you and there never was - this holds immense value.

Of course, with the internet there is TikTok, Instagram, YouTube, Facebook, Patreon and a plethora of other social media sites that will actually pay you when you reach a high enough engagement. This is not about how perfectly designed your profile page is but more so about how authentic you are as a personality. Remember: the new dream identity you are becoming is authentic and comes from a real place of joy and excitement.

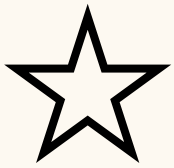

In addition to that, you more than likely already have lots of contacts in your phone, or friends/followers on social media. Create an offer, a unique service based on things you already love doing and have experience in, and start reaching out. A good number to start is 10 contacts a day. Make it part of your daily activities. Either way, connecting with others, especially those you haven't talked to in a while, is the whole name of the game! Also it ties into telling the world who you now are, therefore reaffirming your new dream life.

More than anything else, remember to stand out, have fun and others will naturally gravitate to you. Enjoy the process!

congratulations

YOUR DREAM LIFE STARTS NOW

You did it!

You've taken action. You've committed to your growth. You've chosen to elevate your life—and in doing so, you've elevated the world. That is no small thing.

This is not the end. This process is repeatable, and you hold the power to reinvent yourself as many times as you desire. Your highest vision, your greatest potential—it's all within reach. Now, you have the tools to shape your reality, to create your life by design, not by default.

From the bottom of my heart, thank you for showing up, for playing full out, and for daring to step into the extraordinary. I see you. I honor you. I believe in you.

Now, let's go live the dream—"on Earth as it is in Heaven."

And if you're ready to go deeper, if you're ready to move faster, if you're ready to step into full mastery... I'm here.

This is just the beginning.

"Merrily, life is but a dream."
